

eLearning...the Tipping Point

kathy b. trahan
safety council of louisiana capital area

webinar www.tagoras.com

488 responses regarding use of e-learning
61.1 % currently using 26.2 % plan to use in 6-12 months
12.7 % have no plan to use

Association E-learning 2008

State of the Sector

Primary and secondary purposes for the delivery of e-learning

92.6% Member

64.2% Non-member

Professional Development

Type of E-learning Products most used:

67.1 % Real-time Webinars

56.0 % Recorded Webinars

54.7 % Self-paced Courses

40.4 % Member-only Discussion Board

35.4 % Audio or Video podcasts

34.3 % CD-ROMs and DVDs

E-learning Choices

Current E-learning

56.8 % Very Satisfied

21.6 % Somewhat Satisfied Overall

Tools

60.4 % Power Point

24.8 % LMS or LCMS

24.3 % Adobe Flash

26.6 % WebEx

22.5 % GoToMeeting

Satisfaction/Tools

78% of 400 industry firms surveyed by Engineering News Record in 2008 say collaboration among firms and project owners is the most important role for technology is the next 5 years

Construction Survey: ENR Outlook 2009

Construction

- Largest Industry on the planet
- Highly competitive
- Information dependant industries
- Multiple information formats
- Diverse education levels

Issue:

Fragmentation

Establish a Common Platform for seamless Digital workflow

Create/Capture

Manage/Review

Distribute/Publish

Store/Preserve

Solutions:
Simplify the Process

Top 5 Obstacles

62% Software incompatibility

52% Industry partners have different information formats

33% Time required for data translation

31% Costs associated with sharing

26% Incomplete data standards

Obstacle:

Information Exchange

- Enhanced communication
- Reduction of Costs
- Expedite Process
- Ensure consistency
- Quality Improvement

Results:

Improved Productivity